ACCA Announces Finalists for 2007 Excellence Awards

The Air Conditioning Contractors of America (ACCA) is pleased to announce the finalists for the 2007 ACCA Awards for Excellence. ACCA is the nationwide trade association representing heating, ventilation, air conditioning, and refrigeration (HVACR) contracting businesses.

"These are the most prestigious contractor awards in the industry," said Paul T. Stalknecht, ACCA president and CEO. "Each of these companies deserves accolades for the commitment to excellence that brought them to this pinnacle. Just making it this far is an honor."

The winners will be announced at ACCA's Annual Conference and Indoor Air Expo in Orlando, Florida from March 6-8.

The finalists are:

ACCA Award for Excellence in Residential Contracting: Apollo Heating and Cooling (Cincinnati, Ohio); Atlas Butler Heating and Cooling (Columbus, Ohio); Great Dane Heating and Air Conditioning (Clinton Township, Michigan); and Robert H. RANCK Inc. (Lancaster, Pennsylvania).

ACCA Award for Excellence in Commercial Contracting: Deiter Bros. (Bethlehem, Pennsylvania); Hobaica Services (Phoenix, Arizona); and TDIndustries (Dallas, Texas).

"The finalists represent the best in our business," concluded Stalknecht. "They are the leaders in customer service, professionalism, and community involvement."

The 2007 ACCA Conference will be the largest in the association's history. To register, go to www.acca.org or contact Vickie Ellis at 703-824-8856; vickie.ellis@acca.org.

For over forty years, ACCA has served the nationwide educational, policy, and technical interests of the small businesses who design, install, and maintain indoor environmental systems. For more information, visit www.acca.org.
